CONVENOR: DR. SUJATA ACHARYA
CO-CONVENOR: MS DIPTISHREE DASH

ABSTRACT

All-round development means physical, cognitive, emotional, social, spiritual, and psychological growth to bring a child's balanced development. This growth is necessary for the children to succeed in their school and in later life to become the worthy citizens of the society. Holistic education is concerned with the development of every child's intellectual, emotional, social, physical, artistic, creative, and spiritual potentials. It seeks to engage the children in the teaching-learning process. It is a movement in education that seeks to engage all aspects of the learners. Indigenous children usually are the first-generation learners, and they are from distinct social and cultural groups. Therefore, by attending their personal and educational needs we can be easily connected with these children, and by providing holistic education to them we can bring all-round development of these indigenous children.
